Subject: Recommendation for AWS Cloud Club Captain at Adani University

It is my pleasure to recommend Vidhi Patel, for the role of being a Cloud Captain; an outstanding diligent student with talents- at Adani University for the Computer Science program. She has all cutting-edge skills and potentials in leadership and in cloud computing; thus, I think she would be the best candidate for this role.

Vidhi has phenomenal academic success, with a brilliant unique mix of technical knowledge and hands-on experience on the cloud. She had completed AWS Academy Cloud Foundation and has, hence, developed sound understanding about the infrastructure and practices of deployment in cloud solutions. Her technical acumen paired with practical experience on AWS makes her a right-fit leader for the AWS Cloud Club, someone who would combine insight with competence.

Apart from the technical skills, Vidhi has excellent vision for the AWS Cloud Club at Adani University. She wants to build a community that focuses on real-world applications of cloud technologies and dives straight into practical projects that would help in building relevant skills. She outlines workshops on core AWS services, provides guidelines for students who are pursuing an AWS certification, and allows collaboration in projects that target the present trend in the industry. Her vision is to encourage skill building for students alongside, along with innovative solutions for cloud and a prep for the career in the field of technology.

Vidhi has already shown commitment towards community building through past experiences like being ACM-Women Chapter Webmaster, mentoring in Robotics and AI Club, an active member in Adani Programming and Development Club and ASPDC. She also sat on the management team for an event that hosted Jen Looper, through which she helped organize a discussion on emerging trends in technology with the student community. Her involvement in these initiatives speaks of good leadership qualities and her intention to foster collaborative learning. At a glance, vision that Vidhi Patel possesses make her an outstanding candidate for Cloud Captain and I truly endorse her application.
